Tutoring Experience

With a decade of experience in tutoring, I have helped students excel in IB Maths, A-Level, and IGCSE across Europe. I focus on reinforcing fundamental concepts while preparing students for the rigours of their exams. My approach is tailored to each curriculum, ensuring that students are well-prepared for various exam boards.

I've worked with students from diverse academic backgrounds, offering guidance in everything from AP Calculus to GCSE and IB Maths. This has allowed me to fine-tune my methods to match each student's learning needs and the demands of their specific curriculum, whether it's IB or A-Level.

Over the years, I've enjoyed watching my students achieve their academic goals and progress to prestigious universities. My goal is always to ensure they leave with a solid foundation in mathematics, ready to tackle more complex challenges in the future.
