Tutoring Experience

For 17 years, I've tutored students in IB and A-Level Physics, helping them navigate complex concepts in thermodynamics, electromagnetism, and mechanics. I've worked with students from various international curricula, preparing them for their final exams with a strong focus on physics fundamentals.

Additionally, I've provided support for AP Physics, ensuring students grasp the essential topics required for success. My approach has helped students improve their grades and secure placements in prestigious universities globally.
